Re: 636 Cheyenne Drive, Unit 34

Dear Bill:

As per our conversation, I will outline the method used in constructing the fireplace in unit 34. The fireplace facing up to the mantle bears directly on the wood floor system. All of the remaining fireplace structure and chimney bears on a structural foundation system. The load of the fireplace face from the mantle up to the ceiling is transferred to the foundation by means of steel lintels. Therefore, almost the entire brick load bears on the foundation system.

Sincerely,

Bernie Cain
