

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the value of a single life is inestimable and the loss of a single life to addiction is also inestimable with regards to himself, his family, his friends and the community; and

WHEREAS, addiction threatens the very foundation of our community, its individuals, its families and its businesses; and

WHEREAS, the affect of an individual's addiction has a dramatic impact on virtually every relationship and connection the addict has, thus through these connections, the ravages of addiction permeates the lives of nearly every member of our society; and

WHEREAS, there are over four hundred thousand Coloradoans and over twenty-three million Americans who are drug and alcohol addicted; and

WHEREAS, Narconon Colorado – A Life Worth Saving and its staff dedicate themselves twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, three hundred and sixty-five days a year to help the individual by salvaging him or her utterly from addiction, restoring his or her abilities to be a successful, happy, productive individual and a contributing member of his or her family and the community; and

WHEREAS, Narconon Colorado – A Life Worth Saving has helped hundreds of addicts restore their sobriety and dignity. Having been helped, they in turn are taking responsibility for and are creating a positive effect on the thousands of lives they touch and in so doing, they are creating a zone of calm where once there was only sorrow and despair, helping to make this a better world.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Doug Hutchinson, Mayor of the City of Fort Collins, do hereby declare March 7, 2011 as

and recognize Narconon Colorado- A Life Worth Saving and its staff for helping hundreds of addicts find sobriety and better, happier, more successful lives, helping our families and our community at large.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of the City of Fort Collins this 1st day of March, A.D. 2011.
